We Are Still Growing!

There are few who do not recall that childhood legend of "Jack and the Beanstalk," in which a tiny seed sprang skyward and was responsible for the fulfillment of a boy's every dream. Hillside High School began as a mere seed, growing, branching, and bringing fulfillment to a town's dream. This seed was sown in 1921 where A. P. Morris School now stands. The high school consisted of six classrooms on the second floor of Coe Avenue School. These meager facilities were the roots. From them sprang the stalk Jack Student would have to climb.

Administration Provides for Growth of Faculty, Curriculum and Staffs

As leaves turn toward the sun, so the administration sought better educational facilities. In 1939, Jack found a modern, well-staffed high school on Liberty Avenue, built by the Federal Works Agency. Guided by a devoted faculty, the student body benefitted from a fully integrated curriculum. There were six courses from which Jack was able to choose: college preparatory liberal arts, college preparatory scientific, secretarial, clerical, general and industrial arts. Jack chose one of these paths and began his climb.

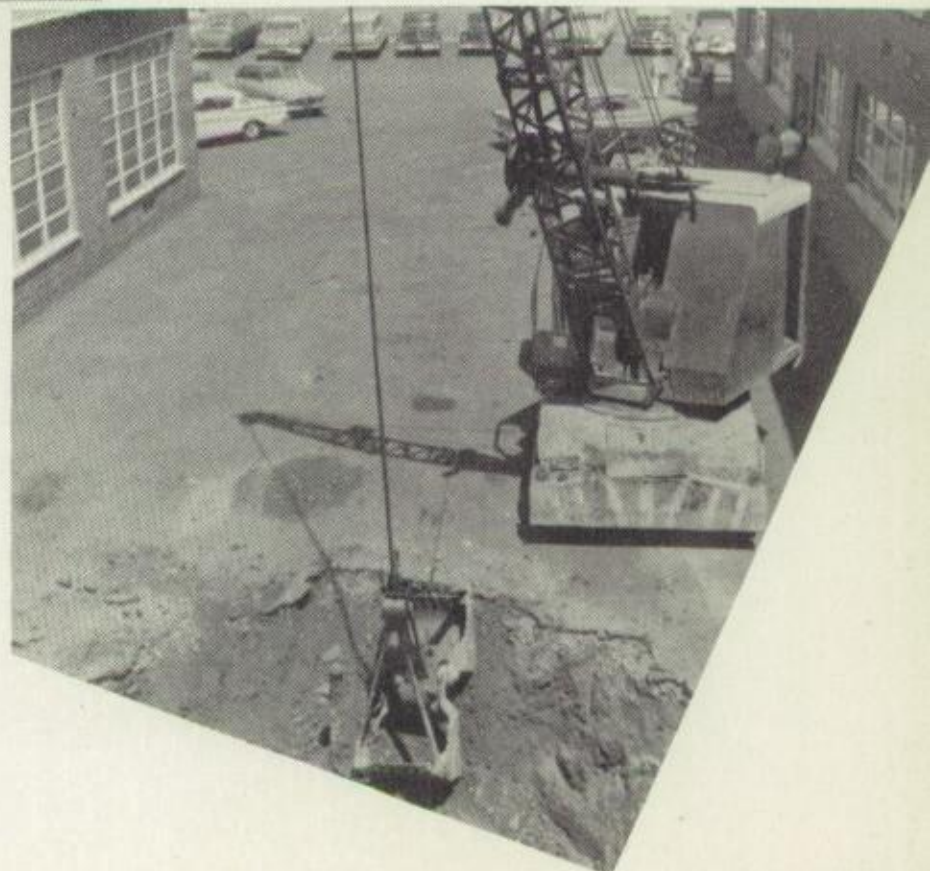

Town Approves Administration's Plan

Dr. Branom Promotes Progress

An institution of higher learning is predominantly a "giving" concern. It gives to its students the opportunity to advance themselves academically, socially, and spiritually. During his fifteen years of service as superintendent of schools, Dr. Wayne T. Branom has made this opportunity available to the students of Hillside High School. It is this able administrator's philosophy, "to keep abreast of the changing times to meet the individual needs of the pupil," that has sparked the growth of the new building facilities.

Complete Activities Program

Made Possible by Expansion

Jack was climbing a beanstalk that was constantly growing. In 1953-54, Hillside High School was expanded to include a cafeteria, additional classrooms, and laboratories. The extra-curricular program was incorporated into the school day as a regular branch of education. Faculty and students had a chance to share hobbies and interests. Jack himself required growing space in order to test his talents and to discover a practical outlet for his skills and knowledge. He found enjoyment and opportunities to develop his personality in the activities in which he participated.

S. G. A. Records Long History

From a meager membership of nine in 1924, the Students' General Association has grown to the amazing stature of 1202 members. Just as our magic beanstalk was rooted, Eugene Hoffman, first SGA president, planted the seeds of unity and tradition, which are now tended by Herbert Gutentag, SGA's thirty-fourth leader, and Mr. Floyd De Nicola, adviser.

Inception of the SGA ticket in 1932 heralded progress, for it boosted every activity, athletic event, and social function instrumental to the growth of student government. Some results of successful SGA campaigns for school improvements are a student handbook, air conditioning for the assembly balcony, a rail around the track, original oil paintings for the cafeteria and language classrooms, and the use of voting machines.

As the SGA gives the student a chance to seek office, and to elect homeroom representatives, it prepares him for the role of the responsible citizen in our American democracy. Four collectors are selected annually from each homeroom to keep accurate accounts under the supervision of the school treasurer, Miss Phebe Haviland. Savings, the sturdy roots of future needs, are given weekly care by two bankers in each homeroom.

Unfolded in the following pages are the results made possible through student-faculty-administration co-operation symbolized by our SGA.

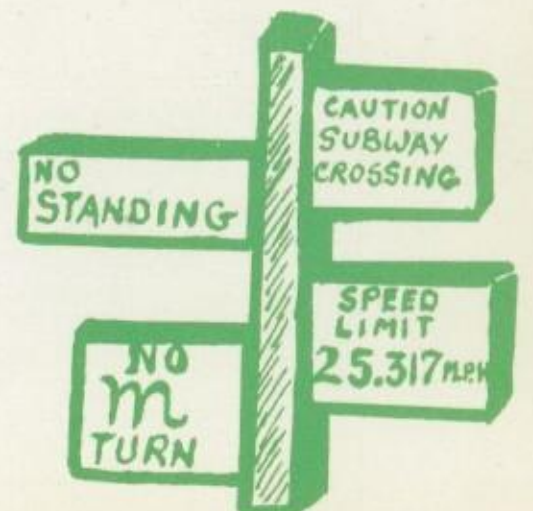

The Daphne Hillman Trio, featured in January, is typical of the professional entertainment supplied by the SGA at special assemblies.

"Let knowledge grow from more to more," decrees Tennyson. Thus, since its beginning in 1931, the National Honor Society has sought growth, not in numbers, but in scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

Seeking to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, some N.H.S. members tutor other pupils. To stimulate a desire to render service, other society associates offer aid to the school library. To promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character, N.H.S. participants are active in the extra-curricular program of Hillside High School. Members also compile the lists for honor roll publications.

Capable leaders for 1958-59 are: Michael Tropp, president; Robert Hodavance, vice-president; Howard Korenstein, vice-president; Stella Tyjewski, secretary; Eve Newman, treasurer. Mrs. Annamae Rudolph has inspired NHS members for the past five years.

Debate and Forum Club Scores on Education

By participating in debates and round table discussions concerning important civic problems, Debate and Forum Club, in existence since 1925, attempts to aid in the making of more enlightened citizens. This year's plan included debates at the University of Pennsylvania Tournament, at Linden High School's Tournament, twice with Irvington, and at the H.H.S. Dad's Booster Club Tournament. Under discussion was the resolution: "That the British system of education is preferable to that of the United States."

Thespians Casting Announces Forty Artists

Tragedy, comedy, greasepaint, and costumes — all the glamour of the footlights found an enthusiastic response from theatrically-minded students early in 1928. However, it was not until the National Thespian Society in 1932 was formed that a signal honor could be bestowed on those especially talented in dramatics. Troupe No. 887 of Hillside High School, under the guidance of Mr. Paul Harrison, reappeared this year with a new face. Incorporating a new policy, that of tryouts as a prerequisite for election, the society increased to forty "artists." In the field of assembly programs, the Thespians presented three dramas and one musical, of which Thornton Wilder's "Pullman Car Hiawatha" was the most successful.

Key Club Merits National Award

Preserving the spirit of Santa Claus, the Key Club, under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Organization and Mr. Edward Gottlieb, has aimed to serve the community and the school. Initiated into the activities program in 1952, it has elected nineteen members annually. In 1958-59, $3000 was raised for underprivileged children by a sale of leather goods, as well as "A Dollar a Scholar" for the Dad's Booster Club Scholarship fund. These activities merited second place honors in the national competition of 20,000 Key Clubs.

Whether the melody pouring forth from the Hillside High auditorium is as solemn as "The Lord's Prayer" or as gay as "Jingle Bells," the listener can be sure that the A Cappella Choir, directed by Mr. Howard Kravitz, offers blue ribbon vocal interpretation. Sound waves are composed of rarefactions and condensations. They strike the eardrum and set up vibrations interpretable by the brain. Certain patterns of sound waves create sensations of intense pleasure and empathy.

The symphonic orchestra, directed by Mr. Leonard Strassman claims as its purpose the production of these patterns by using musical instruments. Inaugurated into the curriculum program in 1923 with ten members, eight violinists and two saxophone players, the music produced by the eighty members today represents cultural achievement at Hillside High School. Freshmen and sophomores practice resumes in the morning, while juniors and seniors rehearse in the afternoon.

As a result of the double sessions at Hillside High School this year, a special football team consisting of freshmen and sophomores, called the "B" team was instituted. Developing the football prowess of these inexperienced underclassmen, became the job of coach Mr. William Swales, and his assistant, Mr. Barry Reister, a newcomer to the faculty.

Although the team was defeated in games against Cranford, Irvington, Pingry, and Union, the members gained invaluable experience in blocking, ball-running and defensive techniques as well as teamwork.

Hillside's "B" team of today will be the varsity of tomorrow, facing formidable opponents on the gridiron where good sportsmanship measures the quality of a good player.

So this is what goes on in a huddle?

Recovering from a winless season last year, Hillside's 1958 football team rallied to win three close scoring games while losing five and tying one.

As a result of the double sessions, the team was built around a roster of veteran juniors and seniors.

With head coach Mr. Carmen Ferrigno at the helm and assistant coach Mr. Manuel Marshall backing him up, the Comets secured victories over Roselle, Scotch Plains, and Irvington. A 6-0 shutout over Roselle boosted the team moral, as Hillside nipped Scotch Plains 19-18 and upset the Irvington Camptowners 14-13.

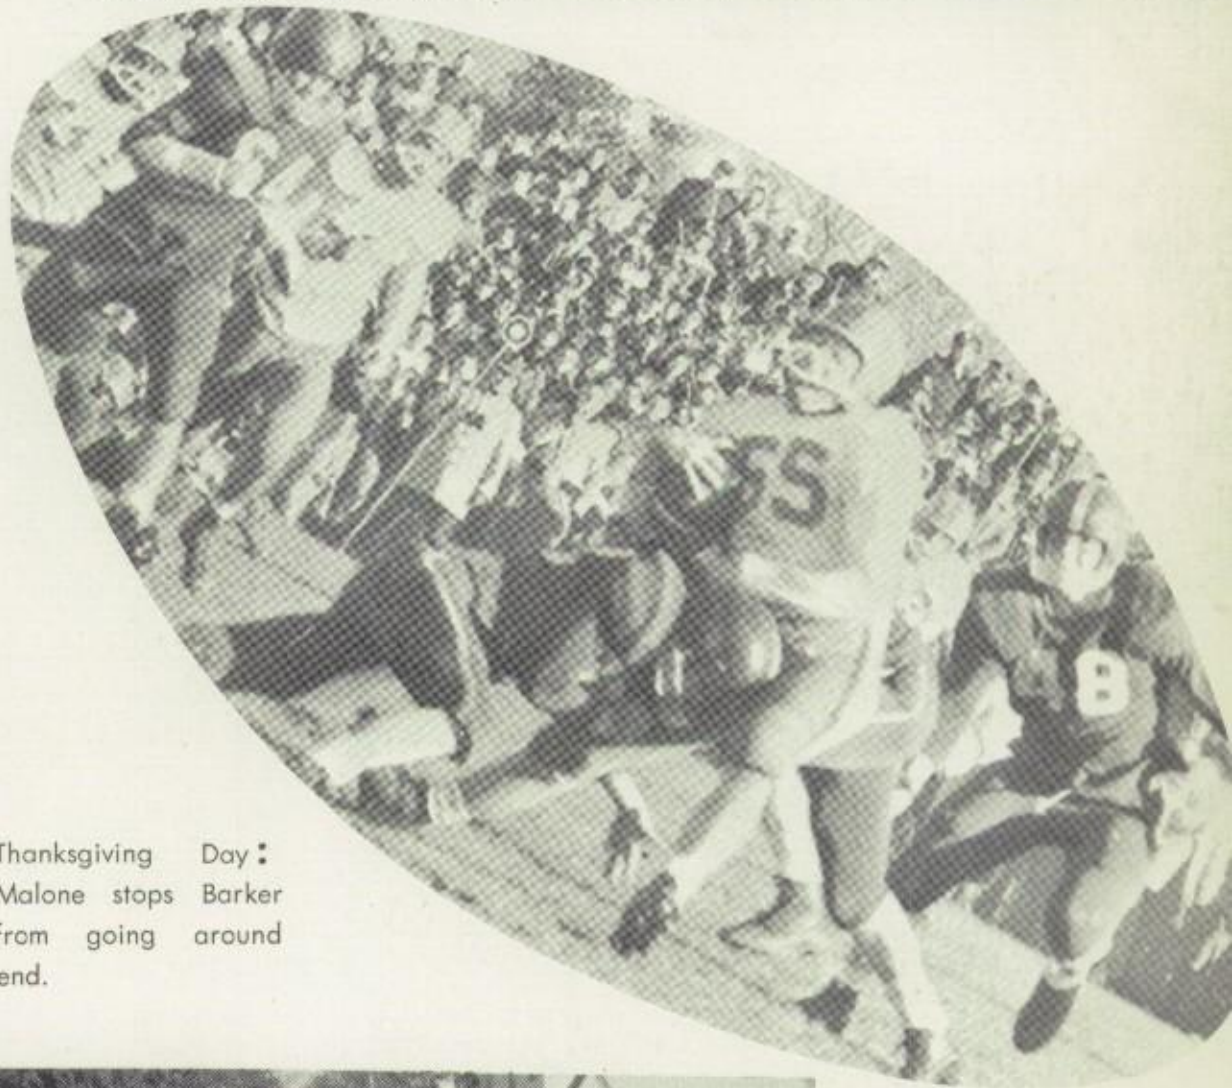

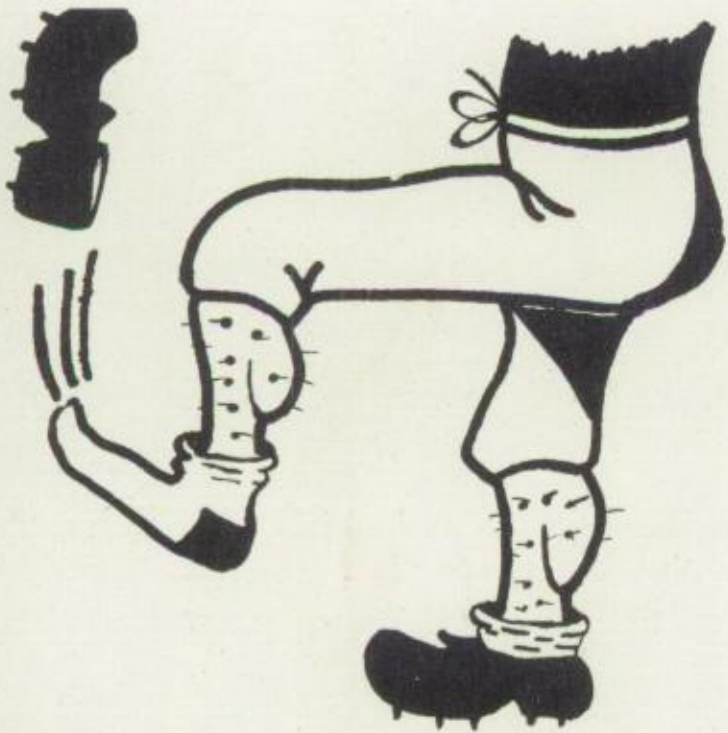

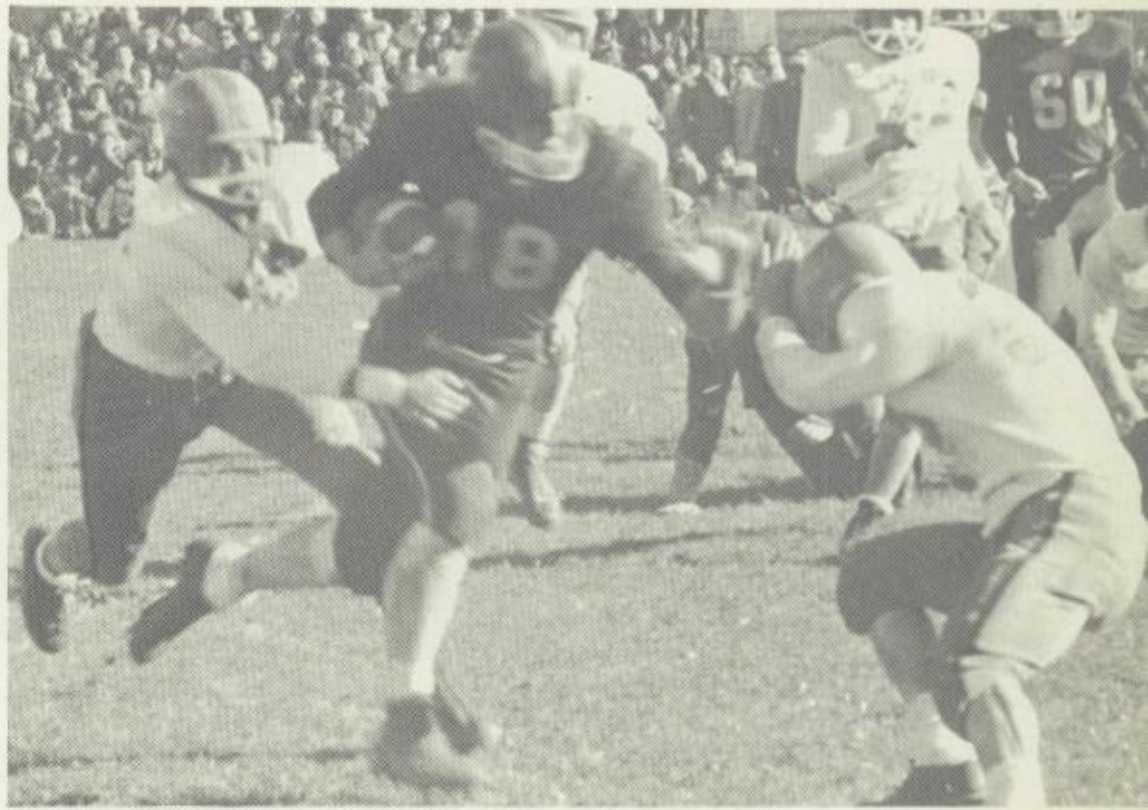

In the annual Thanksgiving Day against arch-rival Weequahic, the two teams exchanged leads as they fought to a 20-20 tie in the closing minutes of the game.

Captain Ronald Barlok, senior offensive and defensive guard, and full-back Daniel Studney shared honors as the outstanding members of the team.

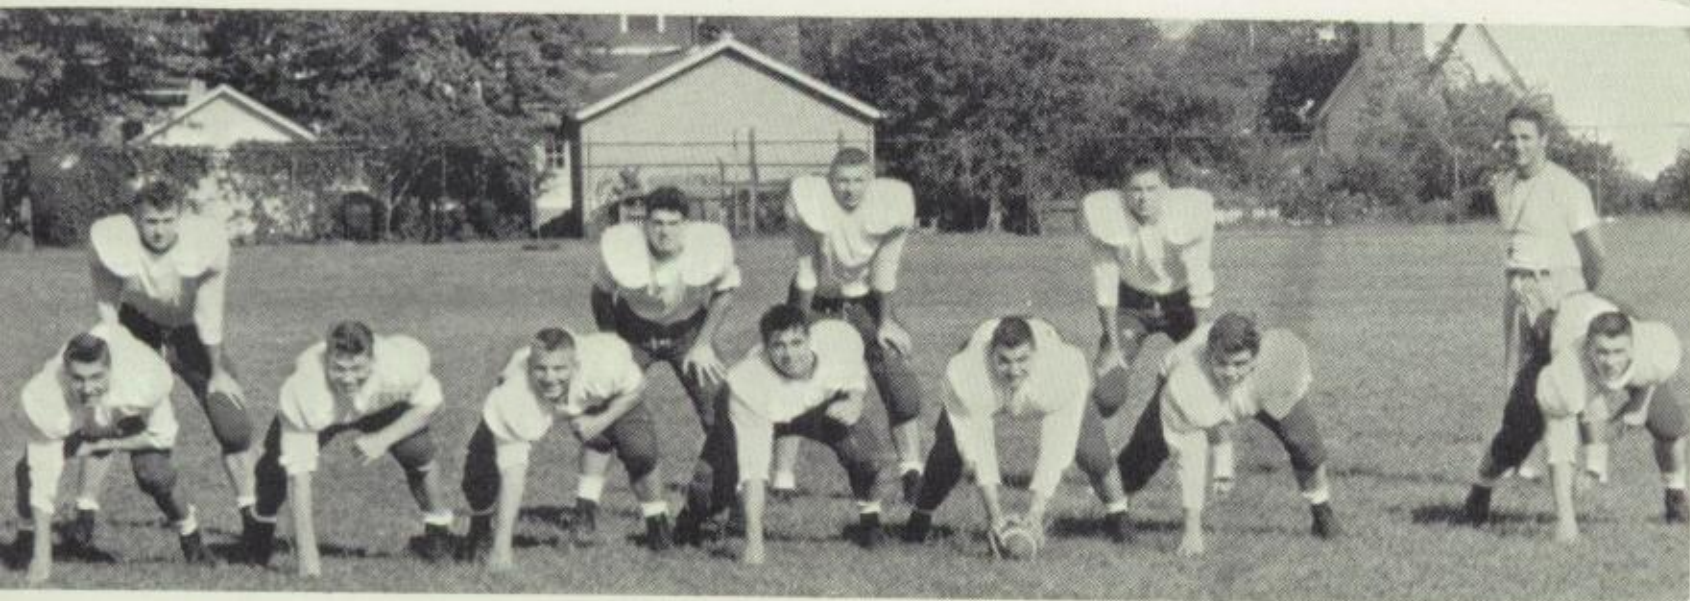

Studney breaks away for touchdown to top Weequahic.

Practicing formations like this single wing helped the Comets to soar to a better record in 1958.

Undisputed winners of the Watchung Conference Soccer Championship title, Hillside booters coached by Mr. William Todt, registered victories over Clark Regional, Cranford, and Scotch Plains.

Regular season encounters were highlighted by a 2-2 tie with the '57 State champs, Summit. A loss to Summit, in another game, and to Thomas Jefferson, were the only defeats suffered by the Comets. The fine defensive abilities of the Comets provided shutouts against Linden, Weequahic, and Edison. Contests with Livingston, Irvington and Union ended in ties.

Seniors John Gawler and Andy Horun and junior Carmen Coppola made the first team All-Union County. Gene Parochniak and Don Scher received honorable mentions.

Carmen Coppola, playing his third year of varsity competition, set an HHS scoring record by booting nine goals during the 1958 season and seventeen goals in three seasons. Co-captain Don Scher was another high scorer with six goals to his credit this year.

Coach William Todt explains correct technique of booting.

Hiller golfers coached by Mr. Harold Eichman completed the season with a record of three wins and four losses. This was the second year of interscholastic competition for the varsity squad.

The Comets started off the season slowly, losing their first three matches, playing against Pingry and twice against Westfield. The next contest resulted in a 10-0 victory over Thomas Jefferson which was followed by a loss to Union. In the final two encounters, Hillside gained the upper hand over Springfield Regional and Union.

Varsity golfers Ira Coleman, John Kulish, Fred Heller and Alan Eisenberg represented Hillside in the Union County Golf Tournament held at Ash Brook. They held out for a fourth place slot, missing third place by three strokes.

Swing session with Mr. Eichman, R. Weiss, B. Pashkow, R. Collins, and J. Popick.

J. V.'s Win Record: 14—2

A starting line-up completely dominated by Juniors built up a winning streak of eleven games which was broken by Irvington's J.V. The final outcome of the game which put Irvington on top, 51—53, was decided in the last heartbreaking second.

Only one other loss, to Scotch Plains, was suffered by the J. V. cagers. The Raiders, who beat Hillside 68—69, had been defeated a month before by the Comet J. V's, 55—63.

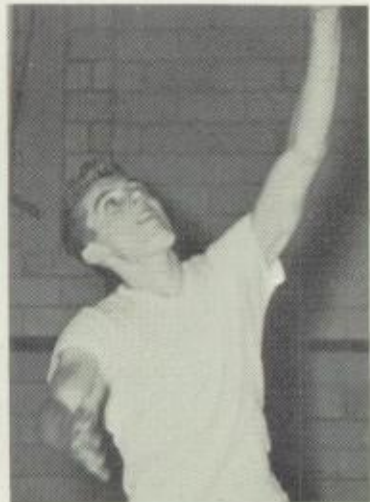

Junior Varsity coach Mr. William Swales, was responsible for turning out such an extremely successful team. The most outstanding players were "Ed" Ziobro, "Al" Eisenberg, and "Bob" Brazer. All three were in the starting line-up.

Boost Record: 10-7

Comet cagers opened the 1958-59 basketball season with a victory against a well-balanced Springfield team in overtime. In the fourth quarter, the Comets, after trailing in the game, tied the score at 54-54. Going into the overtime with the score tied again at 58-58, Hillside's Gene Hecht sunk a free throw to give Hillside the game 58-59. The Comets broke even, winning five of their next ten frays.

The strategy of head coach, Mr. Joseph Silver, and his assistant, Mr. Willis Swales, gave Hillside a 74-75 victory over Irvington in the closing seconds of the game. Two foul shots and a goal by Comet Mark Levin put Hillside on top.

The Comets went on to win three of the last five games, downing Roselle Park, North Plainfield, and Roselle to windup the regular season with ten wins and seven losses.

Although the last game of the year was lost to Scotch Plains 78-88, Comet scoring star John Vanna accounted for thirty-six points. This tied a previous Hillside High scoring record. Vanna accumulated 373 during the season for an average of 21.9 points per game.

In the first game of the State Tournament the Comets could not match Millburn's fast cagers, and they were eliminated from the tournament.

Hampered by the loss of four senior lettermen, who formed the nucleus of last year's squad, Comet grapplers did not have a winning season. The final count, however, revealed a respectable record of four wins and five losses for the 1959 matmen, who were coached by Mr. Harry Ladanye and his assistant Mr. John Duthie.

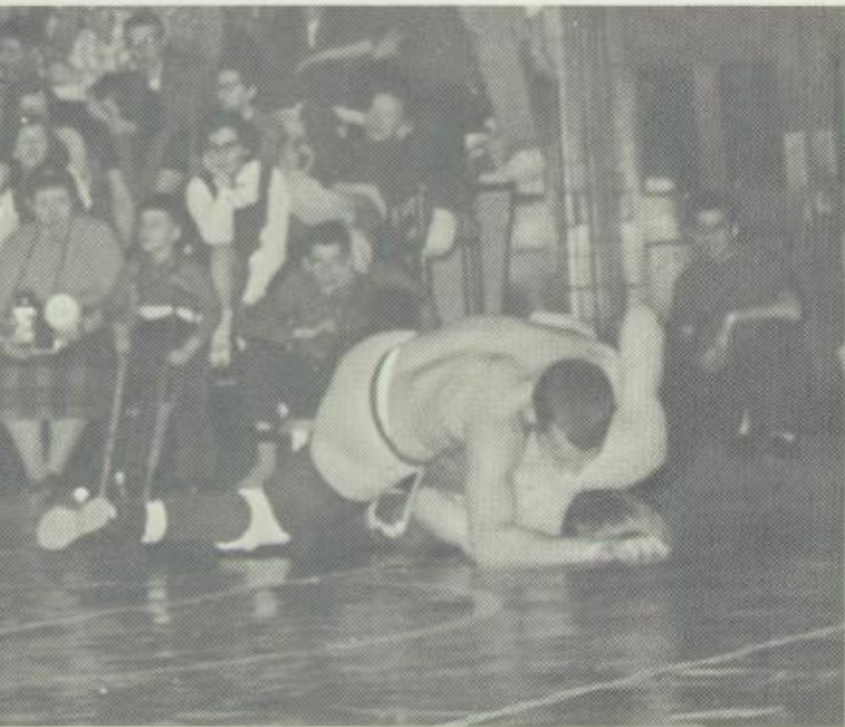

In the opener, Hillside upset 1958 State Champ Union by a 24-22 squeaker. Recovering from a 37-11 rout by Roselle Park, the Comets ripped Perth Amboy 42-10, scoring six pins. The first pin was made by blind wrestler David Davies, who set a new Hillside High School wrestling record, pinning his opponent in fifteen seconds.

Co-captain Joel Bornstein was undefeated in nine matches. His record was second only to 10-0 record compiled by Eugene Avergon last year.

Joel Bornstein and heavyweight wrestler Dan Studney won first places in the New Jersey State District 3 Championships. Bruce Seiden took a second place.

Hillside Cindermen

A fast Hillside track team won through a tough schedule in 1958 with a record of eight wins and two losses. Under the coaching of Mr. Carmen Ferrigno and his assistant Mr. Joseph Silver, the Hillside cindermen combined their talents to edge out Springfield Regional by one point in the opener.

The Comets fell easy prey to a strong Union team, but they sprang back with a string of victories over Clark Regional, Irvington, and the Linden Tigers. A speedy Cranford team enabled the Cougars to down Hillside in a close match. The team quickly snapped back to deal dusty defeats to Roselle Park, Edison, Rahway and Weequahic to complete the season.

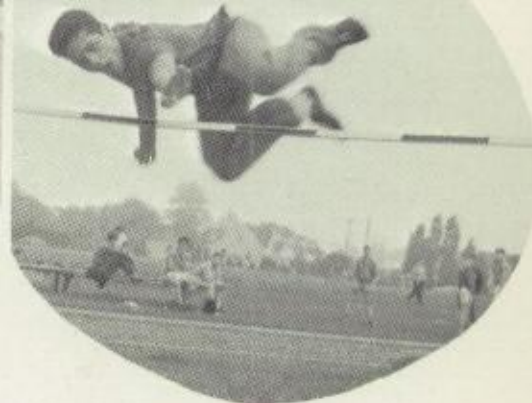

Daniel Studney, exceptional in the shotput, discus, javelin and high jumping events, was awarded the annual track trophy. He was the only junior ever to receive this honor. Sprinter Leon Otlowski, sprinter and broad jumper Bob Kesselman, and the longer distance runners Robert Laws, Peter Jaeger and Russ LaLevee were also recognized as outstanding members of the team.

Coming to bat with many seasoned veterans, Hillside's 1958 baseball team under the direction of head coach, Mr. John Kulikowski, and his assistant, Mr. William Todt, posted a won-loss mark of 10-6.

In the outstanding games of the season, Hillside topped Perth Amboy, Cranford, and Scotch Plains twice, with shutouts hurled by Henry Kostas and Ed Ziobro. "Butch" Kostas, leading pitcher on the team, chalked up three shutouts.

The final game of the year was a brilliant performance by Hillside and Clark. The game continued for 15 innings with the teams deadlocked in a 2-2 tie, but Clark soon gained the upper hand. In the bottom of the 16th inning, they drove in a run to end the game, winning by a score of 3-2.

Backing up the fine pitching staff of Hillside were the leading batters of the team, headed by senior center fielder Richard Menkin, junior Ronald Barlok and sophomore Jim Moynihan.

Bowling and Basketball

Forty girls interested in sports comprised the Girls' Athletic Council. As their program has been curtailed by the double session, the main activity was basketball playdays held at Linden, Roselle, Union, and Battin High in Elizabeth.

Every Tuesday members of GAC have enjoyed participating in their own bowling league. The top ten bowlers were entered in the State tournament.

In June members of GAC went on their annual weekend camping trip to Vineland, New Jersey. During their two day stay, the girls participated in swimming, boating, canoeing, and softball. They were also tested in skill at cooking indoors and outdoors.

Pauline Shipker was elected to the presidency for 1958-59. Vice-president was Loretta Lynch and secretary was Mary Ann Marino. Bowling managers were Helen Smith and Mary Ann Gugliemetti. The girls were under the expert tutelage of Miss Mary Jane Gallagher and Mrs. Marion Malthaner.

Student Life Blossoms in Growing School

Jack had reached what seemed to be the cloud-covered top of the beanstalk. Alone, anxious about what the future might bring, he paused and looked back down the stalk. It seemed so short! Was that what had taken him four years to climb? He laughed, and from the heart of the clouds, the raindrops mirrored back hundreds of happy faces. For Jack suddenly realized that as the beanstalk had grown, he, too, had matured. The beanstalk was still stretching, putting forth sturdy new branches. It would always give him needed support. Confidently he stepped into the future where he knew he could reach even greater heights.

Typical of Jack's confused state of existence during the first few weeks of school were locker combination blues, illegal use of the center stairwell, and the mass scurry to classes, usually arriving late. There was also that triumphant feeling of finally grasping the first branch of the growing beanstalk, as exemplified by Jack's encounter with the "visiting teacher," to whom he had proudly flourished his S.G.A. card. Jack often wished to leap just a few steps more to become that confident upperclassman, readily idolized by his female equivalents . . .

Frosh Fated to Study

With the confusing pace of "first impressions" now waning, Jack made an earnest attempt to master the adroit art of proper study techniques, as do most freshmen. The seemingly infinite stacks of books walled in our unsure ninth grade pupil, held fast in the grip of time-pressure. Jack became a daily cafeteria commuter, hastily gulping a sandwich, amidst the flurry of preparing an oral book report, learning algebraic "word problems" (the menace to freshman society), and attempted study for a five-chapter history "quiz." The frosh world would not be complete, however, without the mentioning of an unforgettable gain. What is it? Why, no other than American Bandstand, which was moved to a later viewing time . . .

Frosh Spotlight Dance

Already counting? Only 2,986 days to go until Jack will proudly possess the right to drive the family car. Thus, Jack must call for his date to the Freshman Dance by way of father-mobile. After gasping in amazement over the conversion of the gym into a frosh paradise, Jack impatiently awaited his counterpart from her retreat to the powder room, (girls' locker room). Ah, memories . . .

"Slow Poke" . . . M. High patiently waits for date, E. Weber, who is comparing notes with L. Greenberg.

Frosh Scrap Title

Although this beginning year had been a priceless experience that will always be treasured, Jack Freshman was not reluctant to relinquish his "throne," and especially that far-famed title, "typical freshman." Symbolically, the year's departure was heralded by a thorough locker cleaning. Surprisingly, Jack's missing library book, unwashed gym suit, antiquated first English test, World History project (a corner of it, anyway), and much used lantern, turned up for the great discard. Now he had smoothed the way for his climb to the sophomore branch. . . .

Sophs Greet Sunset

With the double session, came a flow of unusual events. Foremost to be remembered was the "mid-night" bus scramble, typified by the famous cry, "4:45-48 or Wait!" of some 700 plus students. However, there was also the advantage of being "upperclassmen" — afternoon session, that is! Limited in extra-curricular activities, Jack was proud to root for Frank Checorski who made the varsity basketball team. The girls suddenly seemed to become aware of class heroes, claiming them as "our boys." Sports, though, was not Jack's only deviation from life's routine, for early in the social season, he began preparations for . . .

"By The Light Of The Silvery Moon" . . . Underclassmen board bus for trip home.

Sophs Study?

The tenth grade, to Jack's delight and fright, was one of biological dissecting and geometrical bisecting. The odor of a stiff cadaver lavishly perfumed with formaldehyde was as heady as an ocean breeze. Or, how could Jack forget those "simple seventh grade problems" involving alternate exterior angles formed by the square trisecting an arc? But more than that, it was one of avid telephone conversations, (understandable only to a teen-ager), the Johnny Mathis craze, and social and scholastic strivings. Jack Sophomore was almost ready to take that giant step into the future, to become a true upperclassman.

Looking forward to that glorious day when he would be able, at last, to proclaim himself a senior, Jack Junior confidently began the school year only to be unsettled by the patch test! Yes, worse than any physics experiment, more intense than a "torture" test, this one mere band-aid had fazed the most urbane student. However, the eleventh grade also held many reassuring moments for Jack . . .

Juniors Show Talent

A group of pictures and essays on a bulletin board, a notebook cluttered with papers, each an improvement over the ones preceding, frayed page edges — all were mute evidence of Jack's scholastic struggles. There was the excitement of planning a chartered bus trip to colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, the mystery of the missing gas jets, the futility of the search for infinity, and the humor of the "ludicrous times." Bulging muscles and decorative black-and-blue bruises were Jack's proud badges of service on the playing field. A sore throat and equally decorative bruises were Jack's souvenirs of the friendly, back-thumping cheering section . . .

It was a very sleepy Jack who tried to clean up the remains of his Junior Ring Dance the morning after. However, the dance floor somehow turned back into the gym after liberal application of elbow grease . . .

It all started with Noah! Two by two was a new idea to Jack, though. Strangely, he found himself enjoying a stroll through the halls with a fair companion, who was wearing a fashionable sweater just like his. Jrs. Invest in Future

5-4-3-2-1 — D-Day! — (better known as Driving Day) as the minutes ticked away, Jack was finally eligible for that one special privilege of the junior year — his driving license! Little did he realize that his troubles were just beginning — family feuds for possession of the car, a direct pipeline from his wallet to the gas tank, and sudden "popularity" with which to contend. Then, there was the need to save for college, no more new clothes, just "rags." Some of Jack's friends eagerly sought early admission, the new trend in college acceptance. During the traditional Moving-up Exercises, Jack's dream was realized in that moment when his class slowly filed into the seniors' auditorium seats.

R-r-ring! The alarm clock was abruptly interrupted by a long, groping arm. Slowly Jack Senior uncurled himself and poked his head above the covers. Today was graduation practice day. He looked at the long dark robe hanging on the closet door and he frowned. His desk was strangely empty. He was empty. Breakfast! That would chase away the blues. Still half asleep, he thought about the good old days . . .

"The time has come to talk of serious things, like cabbages and kings." Guided by Dr. Krumacher, we filled out a myriad of applications for jobs and colleges. Hopefully, we travelled to offices and colleges for interviews. "Youth in Industry Day" inspired us with a look into the future when we would be ready for technical, secretarial, and professional careers. At last, the fateful decisions were in our trembling hands. We celebrated . . .

with our prom! The climax of our school days was that wonderful night. Who could forget the sleepless hours spent in choosing the proper theme, decorating until the gym was transformed into a veritable wonderland, worrying over what to wear (girls) and where to go (boys), and finally being almost too tired to enjoy it! Of course, we thrived on every moment of it, and stored up many wonderful memories."

You wouldn't try to build a house without a plan. Just as necessary is a plan for accumulating the money to make that house financially possible. "Hit-or-miss methods won't do it. Planned savings will". If you have the will, we have the way to make your dream of homeownership come true . . . much sooner than you think!
